ALL CLASSES INTERESTED

In the Marriage of Miss Helen Gould to F. J. Shepard.

BEAUTIFUL HOME ON THE HUDSON,

Country Residence of the Bride, Scene of the Nuptials.

Tarrytown, N. Y., Jan. 22.—Miss Helen Miller Gould was married at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon at Lyndhurst, her country estate, to Finley Johnson Shepard, an American railroad man who has risen from the ranks.

The bride went to an altar hidden by roses, asparagus formosa and palms, on the arm of her brother, George J. Gould, who gave her in marriage. An orchestra screened by masses of flowers in the music room played Lohengrin's wedding march, while the Rev. Daniel D. Russell, pastor of the Irvington Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony.

Helen and Dorothy Gould, nieces of Miss Gould, stood with her. Garbed in pale pink satin, they acted as flower girls and were her only attendants.

The couple stood during the ceremony beneath a bower of American beauty roses with festoons of gray-white asparagus reaching almost to the ground. The bride carried a modest bouquet of lilies of the valley, her favorite flower.

A rope of exquisite pearls, said to have once adorned the Empress Josephine, Napoleon's wife, and a pear-shaped diamond pendant, the latter the bridegroom's gift, were the only jewelry worn by the bride. The pearls were a bequest from Miss Gould's mother.

The wedding gown was of duchess ivory satin, with a sweeping train three and a half yards long, trimmed with duchess and rose point lace, and with seed pearl embroidery. The lace and veil were gifts, from the Duchess De Talleyrand, formerly Miss Anna Gould, the bride's sister. The veil was held with a spray of orange blossoms and swept in flowing lines to the end of the long train Orange blossoms also caught up the lace at the sides of the skirt The bride's slippers corresponded with the gorwn, and were trimmed with small rosettes of orange blossoms.

Each of the little girls carried a basket of pink roses, which matched their gowns. Their stockings were of white silk. their slippers white and mounted with gold butterfly buckles. The bride handed to Dorothy her bouquet of lilies of the valley while the bridegroom placed the ring upon her finger.

Less than 100 persons were bidden to the ceremony. They included close relatives of the bride and the bridegroom and friends of long standing. Among the relatives were.

Mr. and Mrs. George J. Gould, Kingdom Gould, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Gould, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J Drexel, Jr., George Jay Gould, Jr., the Misses Edith and Gloria Gould. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Gould and their sons, Edward and Frank; Duc and Duchess De Talleyrand and their son, the little Prince De Sagan, Howard Gould, Mr. and Mrs Frank Jay Gould, of the bride's immediate family; Mr. and Mrs. Burton H. Wright, Mrs. D. W. Cutter, Miss Cutter of the bridegroom's family. Mr. Shepard's mother is ill and was unable to be present.

Among the friends present were: Dr and Mrs. Charles H. Snow, Miss Helen Gould Snow, Gordon and Howard Snow, Mr. and Mrs W. H. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Bush, Mrs. William Northrup, Miss Ida Northrup and Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Perpall, Miss Lita Perpall, Rex Perpall, Mr. and Mrs. Howard G. Northrup.

Lyndhurst, the great country house of the bride, was redolent with the scent of flowers. In every room there rested on the mantles high banks of moss, covered with cut lilies of the valley and edged with smilax. Mingling their fragrance with the lilies were showers of American beauty roses, their long stems arranged in loose natural effect.

The dining room, where a buffet luncheon was served after the ceremony, was green with smilax, whose verdure was relieved with banks of red and white roses. As wedding favors the bride distributed heart-shaped satin cake boxes, each bearing the initials of the bride and the bridegroom, set off with a spray of lilies of the valley. The library was garlanded with Alabama smilax, American beauty and white Killarney roses.

New York, Jan. 22.—The Bowery and Fifth avenue found a common focus for their interest today in the wedding of Helen Miller Gould, daughter of the late Jay Gould to Finley J. Shepard, of St. Louis, the son of a New England clergyman. Society was interested because the wealthy Gould family has been considered part of it; the Bowery poor and thousands of others in needy circumstances who have benefited by Miss Gould's long continued philanthropies, were interested because they considered Helen Gould as their friend. Neither Fifth avenue or the Bowery can be said to be represented at the wedding, however, as in line with Miss Gould's other endeavors to avoid the ostentatious, the guests were confined to close relatives.

The scene for the ceremony was the southwest parlor of Lyndhurst, the bride's country home at Tarrytown, overlooking the Hudson river, where the principals rehearsed their parts last evening. During the forenoon Miss Gould was busy supervising the final setting in which the forty-five employes of the estate seemed to vie with each other in carrying out her wishes to the best effect. Often Miss Gould took complete charge of things herself, as in the case when some relatives arrived she handled their baggage notwithstanding the protest of a servant. She was in the best of spirits with the shower of gifts and congratulatory telegrams descending upon her up to the very hour of the wedding at noon.

The main consignment of presents was reeived at Miss Gould's New York house, and these were taken to Tarrytown in an automobile van guarded by detectives. Nearly a score of these men were stationed about the house and Tarrytown village today as the crowd of curious folks, including many strangers here was expected to be large.

The marriage certificate which the Rev. Daniel Russell, pastor of the Irvington Presbyterian church had prepared to present to the bride after the wedding, was unusually elaborate and interesting. The certificate is of sheepskin, illuminated and lettered by Miss Lucille Townsend, librarian at Irvington, after a special design made in New York. The certificate bears this verse from the fifth chapter of Ephesians

She is an expert horsewoman, and will not have to appeal to the traffic cops when the bands play and her mount becomes fractious.

WILL FRAME A NEW CODE

Which Will Embody Many of the Elements of Both.

WILL HAVE ANOTHER JOINT MEETING

To Which Both 'Drys' and 'Wets' Will be Invited.

Columbus, O., Jan. 22.—Members of the house and senate temperance committees decided not to report out of committee either the "wet" or the "dry" code now before the legislature, but to frame a code themselves which will include provision now incorporated in each of the other codes

The joint committee has also decided to hold one more public debate on the liquor license question next Tuesday evening Representatives of the "wets" and "drys" will be requested to appear before the committees to help frame the so-called middle-of-the-road measure

Publicity is to be the watchword of the administration, according to the report of the house rules committee, which will be presented in the house this afternoon. The report provides that all meetings of the different committees be open to the public and that records of all amendments offered and votes taken be kept. Speaker Swain's working plan of five days a week will probably be adopted.

Senator Freibolin's judiciary reform bill met with opposition in the joint meeting of the house and senate judiciary committees this morning. The measure provides that nine jurors may render a verdict in civil cases. Several think this provision too drastic and favor amending it so that ten or twelve jurors may decide cases. Another hearing will probably be held and all available data collected.

Harry F. Payer, of Cincinnati, member of the legislative committee of the State Bar association, and John R. Shindle, of Cincinnati, today appeared before the joint judiciary committee of the legislature for argue for and against the bill of Senator Carl D. Friebolin, of Cleveland, authorizing the formation of verdicts by the votes of nine of the twelve members of the jury.

Mr. Saindle opened the arguments in opposition to the bill, pointing out that the states that have adopted the less than unanimity rule of juries—Kentucky, Idaho, California, Arizona and Connecticut—are not good states for Ohio to follow.

Starbuck Smith, of Cincinnati, who was a member of the constitutional convention, spoke in favor of Senator Friebolin's bill. Mr. Payer declared that his committee is not favoring the Friebolin bill, but a bill which would premit five-sixths of jury, or ten members, to bring in a verdict.

Mayors and other city officials attending the convention of the League of Ohio Municipalities were todeay invited by the senate taxation committee to appear before it tonight to take part in a hearing on Senator Potting's joint resolution, proposing a constitutional amendment to allow home rule for cities in taxation matters.

Edward W Doty, of Cleveland, member of the recent constitutional convention, spoke in favor of the measure before the committee today.

School Appropriation Bill Passes.

The house this afternoon passed the Ohio schools appropriation bill introduced by Representative Cowan of Putnam county. It provides for an appropriation of $3,125,000

In Interest of Mothers' Pension Bill.

Henry Neil of Chicago, author of the mothers' pension idea, arrived in Columbus today to confer with Governor Cox and aid him in the preparation of a mothers pension measure for Ohio.

Will Investigate National Guard.

The senate unanimously adopted the resolution for the investigation of the national guard. It provides $1,000 for expenses of the investigation, the stenographers employed to get $5 a day and a special accountant $10 a day. The resolution was introduced by Senator Gregory of Hamilton county.

Senator Lloyd of Franklin county, introduced a bill this afternoon establishing the new court of appeals with reporters and a staff of minor officials.

Senator Weygandt introduced a bill prohibiting paying money for signers to petitions under the initiative and referendum.

REPUBLIC OF CHINA

Was an Important Topic for Discussion in Today's Meeting.

CHAMBER COMMERCE OF UNITED STATES

Feels Necessity of Taking Some Decisive Steps in the Premises.

Washington, Jan. 22.—Recognition of the new republic of China was a leading topic for discussion when the convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States convened again today. The necessity for taking some official and decisive action toward welcoming the new republic into the family of nations was emphasized, and, it was declared that aside from the ethical question, American trade in the Orient might suffer from delay in acknowledging the dawn of a new governmental era in the ancient celestial empire. Delegates were looking forward to being received at the White House later in the day. President Taft is especially interested in the organization for he advocated its establishment. The president is to be the guest of honor at the Chamber's banquet tonight with Secretaries Nagel, Fisher, Stimson, Meyer and MacVeagh, Speaker Clark and a number of members of the senate and house.

GOVERNOR INTERESTED

In the Health of the People of the State of Ohio.

PLAIN STATEMENT MADE BY SECRETARY

Demonstrates the Extent to Which Proper Measures Will be Pushed.

Columbus, O., Jan. 22.—Governor James M. Cox is the first Ohio chief executive in many years to display a marked personal interest in matters relating to health This fact is pointed out in an editorial written by Eugene F. Campbell, secretary of the state board of health, which will appear in a forthcoming issue of the health bulletin.

"All persons interested in the campaign for better sanitary conditions in our state note with pleasure and satisfaction the keen interest which the new governor has evinced in matters having for their purpose the conservation of public health," it says. "Governor Cox shows a remarkable grasp of the public health situation. He appreciates the fact that Ohio is not occupying the prominent position that it should in the great nation-wide campaign for better living conditions, and has pledged his support to constructive work along these lines in Ohio."

Dr. Campbell then points out that the governor in his message advocated the establishment of a division of tuberculosis under the jurisdiction of the state board of health, also a survey for the study of occupational diseases.

"He calls attention to the fact that public health is certainly entitled to first consideration, and also to the necessity of making adequate provision for the protection of the health of the human race at the same time we are making provision for the protection of our live stock and other property interests." Dr. Campbell says:

"Mr. Cox is without doubt the first Governor who has really taken an active interest in public health affairs, and, therefore, it is only just to say that on last analysis he is the first Governor which Ohio has had who really has the well being, comfort and health of his constituents at heart. He appreciates the fact that the basic proposition of all material progress must rest on perfect health, as he has stated, the conservation of aterial resources amounts to nothing if at the same time we do not conserve the 'human unit.'

"Health agencies of the state look forward with pleasant anticipation to a large amount of constructive work along public health lines during Governor Cox's administration."

FABULOUS FORTUNES

Paid Each Year by Americans for Protection on Cotton

INVESTIGATION DISCLOSES FACTS

That Are Interesting to Those Who Pay the Bills.

Washington, Jan. 22.—The democratic plan for cutting the tariff on cotton manufactures, which will be recommended to the house early in the extra session of congress, brought representatives of cotton industry to the ways and means committee hearing today. Democratic leaders hold that cotton bears a relation to the world's economic progress more important than that of wool, silk and flax combined and that the American people pay annually about $200,000,000 more for their cotton goods by reason of the present tariff rates.

They contend that no actual loss in revenue will result from the proposed legislation which is identical with the cotton bills the democrats sought to enact in 1911 and 1912 and that the revision would reduce the annual cost of cotton clothing by more than $80,000,000. The estimated duties under the proposed revised schedule would aggregate $20,599,000 against $13,673,801 in 1910 and $12,359,032 in 1911, the latest available statistics.

Democratic members of the committee believe that the rates provided in the tentative schedule, the bill of last year and the year before, are more fairly competitive than have been proposed in any other tariff measure and that they would offer a substantial economy in the cost of living The republican minority deny these contentions.

Cotton affects some of the most powerful industrial interests concerned in the tariff and most of the big organizations—national associations and some of the smaller bodies—were ready today to testify.

STILL HUNTING FOR THE MURDERER.

Chicago, Jan. 22.—While the police today continued their search for Robert Webb, slayer of Detective Peter Hart, State's Attorney Hoyne was preparing to present to the grand jury evidence against Webb, James B. Perry and Frank McErlane, the automobile bandits

The police are confident that Frank Madia, garage owner, Mrs. Isabelle Hastings and Michael Angelo Cassela have not told all they know about the automobile bandits and the murder of Detective Hart.

INDIAN PILGRIMS DROWNED IN FLOOD.

Souakim Egypt, Jan. 22.—Three hundred and fifty Mohammedan pilgrims from India to Mecca were drowned today by a flood which overwhelmed the entire caravan at its encampment midway between the sacred city of Medina Arabia, and the port of Yembo on the Red Sea.

MANY MILES TRAVELLED

By President Taft During His Tenure of Office.

AVERAGE PER DAY, SEVENTY-FIVE MILES

Exclusive of Mileage Covered by His Many Motor Trips.

Washington, Jan. 22.—When President Taft stepped down from his private car on his recent return from New Haven, the total mileage of his travels during his four years in the White House reached 113,659—enough to have taken him four and one-half times around the world, or an average of about 75 miles for every day he has been president. The total is exclusive of the hundreds of miles the president has traveled by motor in every part of the country; his trips through cities and his tours about Washington and in the vicinity of Beverly.

Including the automobile trips and three short journeys to be taken before March 4 Mr. Taft will have traveled during his term about 125,000 miles, or five times the distance around the earth at the equator.

HOME MISSION ACTIVITIES

Was One of the Principal Topics Under Discussion Today.

DEDICATION OF NEW BUILDINGS

Of Hebrew Union College an Important Event on the Program.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 22.—Consideration of "Home Mission Activities" and the dedication of new buildings of Hebrew Union college were the principal events on the program of the meeting of the twenty-third council of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations here today.

Several reports dealing with "Home Mission Activities" were read during the consideration of this subject by the Union. The one that received the most attention was that of the department of synagogue and school extension. It dealt with the establishment of a large propaganda fund, under the leadership of Rev. Dr. J. Leonard Levy, of Pittsburg, and with the Sabbath school publication activities, under the chairmanship of Rev. Dr. David Philipson, of Cincinnati.

The report was followed by an address by Rev. J. Leonard Levy on "Synagogue and School Extension." He contrasted the present wakeful attitude of Israel with the lethargy that characterized the attitude in former days. He advocated energetic methods and appeals for the co-operation of the delegates in the work of the department of synagogue and school extension. Following this there was a discussion which was led by Hon Harry Cutler, of Providence, R. I.

An elaborate ceremony was prepared for the dedication of the new college buildings. It included the presentation of the buildings to the president of the Union, J. Walter Freiberg, who was to turn them over to the board of governors of the college Rabbi Jonah B. Wise, a son of the late Rabbi Isaac M. Wise, founder of the college was scheduled as the principal speaker at the dedication
